Privacy policy

Phix Cloud does not collect any personal information without your prior permission. When using the specific share feature of the application used to upload an image data might be transmitted to our servers.

This data consists of:
-The picture you are trying to upload
-An identifier to link your uploads to each other (not publicly visible)
-The application you used to upload the picture
-Your picture's EXIF data if it contains any (this also includes location data for the picture)
-Your filter data if you made any changes
-A description

All of the uploaded images are freely and openly accessible through the short URL (phix.im/...) that was returned from the application and their original location URL. They can also be featured on the front page of phix.im with a link to their gallery entry. These images may be cached by Google for inclusion in the search engine results at any time. This is the responsability of Google Inc. and we aren't responsible for any information that is spread in this way.

You are solely responsible for the data you provide in the description.

EXIF data and filter data have an opt-out in the application used for the upload. In this case, the application will not upload this data to our server or display them on the picture gallery page.

Terms of service

Phix Software or the maker(s) is not responsible for any data that is placed online through the sharing service. You are responsible for your the content of your own uploads. If any uploaded material is considered to be explicit or illegal by law of your residing country or general international law it might be removed. We also reserve the right to remove any pictures, data or comments considered by us as spam. This includes mass advertising or mass uploading.

Phix Software is not responsible for the data or statements you provide in the description, comments or EXIF data.

We are not responsible for loss of data caused by downtime or malfunctioning of the upload service. You should always keep a backup of the images you upload to the Phix Cloud service.

All uploaded images remain property of their respective owner(s) and we or other users cannot exploit any of the uploaded images without prioir permission of the creator. We do however retain the right to feature your uploaded pictures on the phix.im homepage. These will randomly be selected.

If any of the terms of service are violated we can also decide to ban users from uploading data or accessing the site.
